All in Readiness for the Crowds at Madison Square Garden To-Night.

Scores of Prominent Democrats Visit the Party's Candidates.

Programme Provides for Very Simple Ceremonies-The National Committee's Plans.

Everything is in readiness for the ceremonies at Madison Square Garden to-night when Grover Cleveland and Adial E. Stevenon are to be formally notified of their nominations by the Democratic party's National Convention for President and Vice-President the United States. Ex-President Cleveland and Gen. Stevenson, accompanied by W. G. Ewing, of Chicago, and R. T. O'Brien, Mr. Cleveland's private Secretary, arrived in the city on the Fall River line steamer Pilgrim at 7.15 o'clock this morning. It was Mr. Cleveland's request that his coming and his stay here should be attended with as little pomp and isplay as possible, and therefore there was nen who knew that the distinguished Demcrats were coming gathered at the foot of he gangplank to get a good look at the can-had provided curringes for the party.

Mr. Cleveland was the first to step off the boat, and Mr. Stevenson quickly followed him. Both shook hands with an Evening World reporter, who was considerably im-pressed with the difference of the handshaking of the two men. Mr. Cleveland's "shake." as New Yorkers know, is hearty and cordial, denoting that honesty and firmness of character which have endeared him to the people.
